KLING STUBBINS

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

KlingStubbins marks New Year with new era of leadership

PHILADELPHIA, PA – January 7, 2008 – KlingStubbins' Chief Executive Officer Robert G. Thompson, AIA, has retired, ending his 30-year career with the firm including eight years as CEO. For over a year, work has been underway to formalize the firm's plans for the future and to assure a seamless leadership transition.

Bradford White Fiske, FAIA

KlingStubbins is pleased to announce that the following three co-leaders will guide the firm for the next several years. This is the fifth generation of leadership in KlingStubbins' 61-year history:

Bradford White Fiske, FAIA, continues as National Director of Design, responsible for the design direction of the firm across all offices. Mr. Fiske has spent the last 23 years with KlingStubbins, establishing its reputation as a premier design firm, garnering numerous design awards for his work along the way.

Robert T. Hsu, AIA

Robert T. Hsu, AIA, is National Director of Projects overseeing all project-related matters across all offices and markets. He has spent 16 years with KlingStubbins, initially as Project Director and for the past eight years as Sector Head, with senior-level responsibility for the project leadership of major segments of the firm's work.

Michael R. Lorenz, PE, LEED® AP

Michael R. Lorenz, PE, LEED® AP, is the firm's National Managing Principal. He is responsible for all KlingStubbins operations, including day-to-day operations as well as strategic initiatives—both nationally and internationally. Mr. Lorenz has been with the firm for more than 22 years, with leadership responsibilities at senior levels for the past eight years.

"KlingStubbins has emerged in the 21st Century as a highly regarded design firm, committed to design excellence and client service," said Managing Principal, Michael Lorenz. "We are very well positioned to continue our planned growth in markets and geography for many years to come, while maintaining our high standards of performance in design, technology, and project delivery, with special focus on sustainable design. This includes plans to build upon the successes we have had in all six of our US offices, while we also expand our operations overseas. We have purposefully evolved into our current leadership structure, specifically to accomplish these goals."

KlingStubbins provides professional services in all major disciplines within the realm of architecture, engineering, interiors, planning, and landscape architecture. The firm consists of more than 550 professionals in its Cambridge, MA; Las Vegas, NV; Philadelphia, PA; Raleigh, NC; San Francisco, CA; and Washington, DC offices. Its areas of market focus and specialization include Corporate/Commercial, Government, Health Care, Higher Education, Hospitality/Entertainment, Institutional/Civic, Mission Critical, and Research and Development.
