KlingStubbins' new Director of Interiors Christina Cornell

RALEIGH, NC – March 25, 2009 – KlingStubbins Southeast is pleased to announce two new additions to its office: Daniel Douglas will join the firm as its Director of Urban Planning, and Christina Cornell has come on board as the new Director of Interiors.

By expanding their range of services to include planning and interior design services, KlingStubbins' Raleigh office is reaffirming their commitment to the Southeast market. The new appointments also indicate KlingStubbins' marketing goals, focusing on future strategic initiatives beyond the immediate economic downturn.

Mr. Douglas most recently served as the Director of Raleigh's Urban Design Center. His efforts were key in the reopening of Fayetteville Street and the development of Raleigh's new signature, high-tech public space – City Plaza. In April 2008, Mr. Douglas was honored with the first ever Downtown Advocate Award by the Downtown Raleigh Alliance.

Christina Cornell comes to KlingStubbins with an impressive architectural interiors portfolio, having served in leadership roles at prominent firms Swanke Hayden Connell Associates and EwingCole during the course of her career. She also established her own highly successful boutique architectural and interior design firm in Washington, DC.

KlingStubbins provides professional services in all major disciplines within the realm of architecture, engineering, interiors, planning, and landscape architecture. The firm consists of more than 450 professionals in its Philadelphia, PA; Cambridge, MA; Raleigh, NC; San Francisco, CA; Washington, DC; and Beijing, China offices. Its areas of market focus and specialization include Corporate/Commercial, Government, Science + Technology, Higher Education, Hospitality/Entertainment, Institutional/Civic, Mission Critical, and Health Care.

KlingStubbins can be found online at www.klingsubbins.com.
