FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

KlingStubbins Announces Wanchul Lee, AIA, as new Senior Architect in Washington, DC, office

WASHINGTON, DC – September 5, 2007 – KlingStubbins is pleased to announce that Wanchul Lee, AIA, is working as Senior Architect in their Washington, DC, office. Mr. Lee is highly regarded within the Federal government and design community for his embassy design work and his affiliation with the US Department of State. In his role at KlingStubbins, Mr. Lee will primarily contribute to the firm's Federal government and international projects.

"I believe bringing Wanchul on board will advance our interests locally and internationally," states Pascal D. Pittman, AIA, Managing Director of KlingStubbins' Washington, DC, office. "His in-depth knowledge of the government's approach to overseas facilities and his fine-tuned sense of design is a great asset to our organization."

A graduate of Miami University in Ohio, Mr. Lee has over 23 years of experience working with the US Department of State on various projects including over 70 commissions for embassies and missions worldwide; the Korean Embassy in London, England; and repeat assignments for the Royal Thai Embassy and the Korean Embassy, both in Washington, DC. These projects include renovations, additions, new construction, and security, as well as communications upgrades.

KlingStubbins provides professional services in all major disciplines within the realm of architecture, engineering, interiors, planning, and landscape architecture. The firm consists of more than 550 professionals in its Cambridge, MA; Las Vegas, NV; Philadelphia, PA; Raleigh, NC; San Francisco, CA; and Washington, DC offices. Its areas of market focus and specialization include Corporate/Commercial, Government, Health Care, Higher Education, Hospitality/Entertainment, Institutional/Civic, Mission Critical, and Research and Development.
