KlingStubbins moves to Kendall Square

KlingStubbins' new Cambridge office at One Broadway

CAMBRIDGE, MA – May 2, 2011 – KlingStubbins, a national A/E firm, has announced the relocation of its Cambridge office from Harvard Square to the tenth floor of One Broadway in the heart of Kendall Square.

"This new location will enhance our visibility in the biotech market and will improve access to our clients in higher education, corporate/commercial, and healthcare as well," said Joseph A. Castner, AIA, LEED AP, Managing Director for KlingStubbins' Cambridge office. "The office fit out, which is currently targeting a LEED CI Platinum Certification, is a critical element in our continuing efforts to meet the AIA 2030 Commitment". Through the AIA 2030 Commitment, KlingStubbins endeavors to reduce the environmental impact of the projects being designed and in their practice.

KlingStubbins is known as an industry leader in science and technology projects, as well as BIM technology and innovative delivery processes such as IPD. The company has garnered critical praise and multiple design awards for such projects as Autodesk's new AEC headquarters in Waltham, MA, the transformation of the former NECCO candy factory into Novartis' global research headquarters, and the new corporate headquarters for Digita in Boston. Its current work includes the Brehm Research Tower at the University of Michigan, AstraZeneca in Waltham, Shire Pharmaceuticals in Lexington, and the renovation of 640 Memorial Drive for MIT Real Estate in Cambridge. Its international work includes projects in Cambodia and China as well as the Far Eastern Federal University in Russia. Well-known KlingStubbins "legacy" projects include Citicorp Center in New York, the Ronald Reagan Presidential Library, and the Landmark Tower in Yokohama, one of the tallest buildings in Japan.

KlingStubbins provides professional services in all major disciplines within the realm of architecture, engineering, interiors, planning, and landscape architecture. The firm consists of over 400 professionals in its Philadelphia, PA; Cambridge, MA; Raleigh, NC; San Francisco, CA; Washington, DC; and Beijing, China offices. Its areas of market focus and specialization include Corporate/Commercial, Government, Science + Technology, Higher Education, Hospitality/Entertainment, Institutional/Civic, Mission Critical, and Healthcare.
